Part 1: Resilient Local-First Software

Local-first applications preserve user agency and work reliably without network access. The lead architect is in charge of verifying database migrations before release.

Part 2: Immutable Audit Trails

Every state transition is recorded as an idempotent event to prevent double counting.